November 2015
Dear Members of Australian Vietnamese Women’s Association,

Ladies and Gentlemen,

I have the honor to present my annual report for 2014-2015. The past year has been an active one for our organization. The year was memorable and productive, I found it more difficult and not possible to fully detail all that our association achieved in this brief presidential report. Fortunately, you can find more details in the reports of our Secretary and CEO, Mrs. Cam Nguyen and our Treasurer Mrs. Yen Bui.

I hope that you will review the statistics and photos we have offered in this annual report.

In addition to the clients served, our Committee of Management was busy in 2014-2015 with efforts to strengthen our organization that included:

- Review and update of mission and by-laws
- Review and update of financial reporting
- Development of an organizational plan

When I succeeded President Vinh Nguyen in October 2011, I thought that I would step down after a year, but now I have held the office as President for four years from 2011 to 2015, thanks to all the support from AVWA.

We are a charitable organization registered with Australian Taxation Office, anyone who donates $2.00 or more to us will get a tax deduction.

Although we have changed over the years and continue to do so as the world around us changes, it is essential that we hold firmly to the values that will guide us into the future.

The values we uphold are: Integrity, Respect, Inclusion, Compassion and Excellence (IRICE).

Thank you for your support.

Thanh-Kham Tran-Dang
President
It is my pleasure to present the financial report of the Australian Vietnamese Women’s Association Inc. for the year ended 30 June 2015. Our total revenue at $4.1m was 22% higher compared to the year before. This great result was mainly driven by payments for Home Care Programs. During the year, we also received $100,000 infrastructure grant towards the cost of our Braybrook office fit-out.

Total expenses increased to $3.7m or 14% higher than the year before. This was in line with expectation from more project activities, higher support expenses and predominantly rising staff costs due to increased pay rates and staff number. During the audit review, we identified annual and long service leave as opportunities for cost control. We will encourage employees to take their annual leave within the year of accrual and introduce a new policy regarding the accumulation of annual leave and long service leave balances.

Net assets increased by $1.6m to $3.8m mainly due to the re-valuation of land and buildings and healthy net income.

I would like to extend my personal appreciation and gratitude to the Committee of Management, our Secretary and CEO, our dedicated staff, generous members and supporters in the community for their efforts and contributions to delivering another great result.

Yen Bui
Treasurer

Richmond Seniors’ Group
At last year’s AGM, my report was exceptionally long as I presented the highlights of the 10 years from 2004 to 2014 I had been serving as CEO of AVWA. This year’s report is much shorter as it only relates to the past financial year.

The year started on a high note as we received news that our organisation was the only one to receive funding from the Victorian Responsible Gambling Foundation for both Gambling Prevention and Gambling Counselling services, both services being very much needed by the community. The year also saw an expansion in our playgroups as well as Planned Activities Groups for the frail aged while our greatest department, HCPs (Home Care Packages) underwent a generational change. Our aged care team is to be congratulated for working very hard to ensure not only a smooth and seamless transition of all packages in all regions to the new CDC (Consumer Directed Care) model well before the deadline of July 1st 2015 but also a perfect score in the departmental quality review, meeting all eighteen service standards. As to our range of long standing programs, including Accredited Training, Drug and Alcohol Treatment Counselling, Prisoner Support, Information Technologies and Media etc..., they continue to be run by our dedicated and professional project workers.

Thanks to a WIN (Workforce Innovation Network) grant from the Community Services and Health Industry Skills Council, we had a 360° review of our organisation, with full situation analysis report, marketing and risk management plans and strategic plan to July 1st 2019.

However, the highlight of the year was the fit-out of our new Braybrook office and the move from our old Footscray office to that much larger, well appointed and very well located new office in South Road, opposite the Central West Plaza, a move very much appreciated by both staff and clients.

I will end my report by sharing with you our plan to open a third office in Springvale at the request of SEMVAC (South East Melbourne Vietnamese Associations Council) which is a group of 18 local organisations. The rationale is that South East Melbourne, which a quarter of Vietnamese background Victorians call home, is currently very much under-serviced compared to the West, North And East where most of our services are currently located.

Finally, I would like to thank our Committee of Management, Members, Staff, Volunteers, Partners and Funding Bodies for their continuing support. The current year which marks the 40th anniversary of the Vietnamese Australian community is shaping up as a great year of development and innovation for AVWA.

Traditionally, during the Lunar New Year, Vietnamese elders often receive from friends and family good wishes including the phrase “wishing you live a long life until you are a hundred years old”. However, this New Year wish will no longer be suitable for many care recipients in our HCP Southern and Western Programs as they are reaching the centenary milestone. Currently, we provide services to 93 Vietnamese elderly, 2/3 of whom are over 80 years old.

Mr Q is 99 years old as mentioned on his documents. However, he discloses that his real age is 100, and all of his children from around the world have already organised a family gathering at his house to celebrate his 100th birthday.

Mr Q is very nimble, he remembers all appointments, and makes his own decisions. However, he has difficulty with his mobility, and he stays home by himself most of the time as his children and grandchildren have their work or study commitments. After accepting a Level 2 Home Care Package, Mr Q sets his goals at living at home with his family for as long as possible, and participating in group activities to keep his mind active and happy. A care plan is discussed with his case manager and a service schedule is set up as per Mr Q’s needs and wishes. The care workers assist him with home help, and transport to weekly group meetings. When Mr Q has medical appointments or needs to go to the barbershop, additional care shifts are arranged for him. Apart from that, with Mr Q’s consent, the case manager has made referral for a personal alarm, as well as referrals to a physiotherapist, a speech therapist and an occupational therapist for assessing and arranging equipment to ensure his safety. Mr Q says that since he started receiving services from AVWA HCP, he has felt very happy as the care workers are very caring, and he is able to maintain his participation in group activities, does not have to totally rely on his children when he needs to go out.

With Mr Q’s consent, we are going to request congratulatory messages from The Queen, the Governor-General and the Prime Minister on the occasion of Mr Q’s official 100th birthday.

The aims of the AVWA HCP Program are to assist male and female elderly from Vietnamese background to remain living at home for as long as possible, and enable them to have choice of care options which are culturally and linguistically appropriate to them.

Shining smile

Living with the children and being cared with love has always been the dream of Vietnamese elderly people. However, Mrs Ng was not as happy as she would like to be. She was feeling bored, being left at home alone for long hours while her children were at work. As she had reduced mobility, she had to depend on her children to take her out at weekends.

Things changed when Mrs Ng accepted a home care package. She was encouraged to talk about her problems, set her care goals and request the services that met her needs. Soon, Mrs Ng regained her independence and confidence: with some transport assistance, she was able to see her doctor by herself, do her shopping at her favourite places, go to the temple and attend AVWA Planned Activity
Group meetings every Monday. She enjoyed spending time with the care workers and socialising with the elderly group.

Assisted actively by her case manager, Mrs Ng has been working to achieve the goals that she had set, which were to stay safe and healthy. Her awareness regarding fall prevention has been raised by an occupation therapist, followed by the determination of using equipment and aids provided to ensure her safety. What a nice surprise for the family when Mrs Ng used the four wheeled frame without being prompted. Other referrals to Allied Health were made: physiotherapist, podiatrist, hearing specialist, dentist were consulted. Mrs Ng “emerged refreshed” showing proudly her new denture and a lovely shining smile.

“My mum has never been so happy. My boss as well! You know why? He notes that I am not taking days off anymore for my mum’s medical appointments! Thank you for all the hard work, we have had such a wonderful experience with AVWA Home Care Packages Program and we can’t stop telling our network of friends” said Anh, Mrs Ng’s daughter.

The financial year 2014-2015 was a busy and exciting year for all HCP staff with the transition of all current Home Care Packages to Consumer Directed Care (CDC), a new service model in which care recipients are encouraged and empowered to make their own choice of care services. The AVWA- HCP South & West had transferred all packages to CDC well before the due date of July 1st 2015 set by the Department.

As usual, at the end of each financial year, the HCP program carries out care recipients’ survey. The result of the survey in June 2015 shows that 98% of cares recipients and/or their representatives are satisfied & highly satisfied with our services, and 86% confirm that the support from the program assists them to remain living independently at home.

Latest news: A quality review team from the Australian Aged Care Quality Agency visited our offices on 22nd & 23rd July 2015 to assess the quality of care and services. The Agency has sent us a report confirming that both the HCP Southern & Western Programs meet all 18 expected outcomes of the Home Care Standards.
This was a remarkable year marked by a significant government policy change from Community Aged Care packages (CACPs) to Home Care Packages - Consumer Directed Care Model (HCP-CDC). By 1 July 2015, our program had completed the transition of all care packages into the new CDC model.

The change to CDC provided consumers with more choice of care and encouraged them to increase their involvement in managing their own packages. It was delightful to see our elderly clients becoming so engaged in discussing what they could and wanted to do with their money.

"No nursing home for me please!" This response is no longer a surprise to us. "I want to live and die in my home!" That is why one of our consumers who is 99 years old living in the Northern suburb still goes shopping for food at the local market every week, goes to the post office to pay his bills and manages his own medication. Another 87 year old lady who was with us since the beginning of the program walks to PAG and other social group meetings three times per week. "Don’t ever leave me. You are my children now" - she often says with tears of happiness - "I can live longer in my home, thanks to you all".

"I didn’t have hot water for 2 days. I called the maintenance centre but there was no response. Only when you talked to the housing office, then they came to fix it. I can have a hot shower now" - a male consumer said happily.

"I didn’t go out before because I was not confident to use a taxi by myself. The Vietnamese taxi drivers whom you recommend are great. They are so attentive. They treat me as if I was a member of their family. They walk me to the door and assist me by carrying heavy bags. I know they don’t have to do that". This frail male consumer with mobility problem who uses taxi vouchers to attend AVWA PAG weekly meetings no longer feels isolated or lonely now.

“I wouldn’t know what to do without your help. My mum’s dementia is getting more severe day by day. Her words might hurt you as well as me sometimes. I am grateful for your understanding and also the many referrals and arrangements, that help to keep her safely at home with me”- said the daughter/carer of a consumer suffering from dementia.

“I am more lucky than many other elderly because I have this package, I can speak my language with care workers with the same cultural background as me” - a consumer said - “I hope that many other Vietnamese elderly people out there will also have this service” - this was not only the wish from our consumers but also from all our HCP staff.
2014-2015 was a significant year for our Planned Activity program, because additional funding allowed for not only the setting up of a new group located in the city of Maribyrnong, but also a more diversified range of activities including crafts, outings, community events, performing arts comprising folk dances with glamorous costumes, acting in plays, singing, zumba and freestyle dancing - plus information sessions about a wide range of topics viz. palliative care, fire evacuation and home safety, heart health, arthritis, dementia, safe use of medication, Centrelink, elder abuse, etc... This enjoyable and stimulating program helped improve the participants’ physical and emotional well-being.

The program achieved at a high standard all the goals set in its diversity and ASM (Active Service Model) plans. This was evidenced through numerous feedbacks from the participants and the obvious improvement in their ability to become more independent. In a survey conducted in June 2015 on the "Health improvement when attending PAG group" 81/138 participants stated “very good” and 52/138 stated “average”.

During the last year, the staff reported an increase in the number of participants with dementia. However, instead of trying to set up a specific dementia group, our staff implemented an integrated model whereby they included people with dementia in the general group as they were confident that with the support of other participants, staff, carers and volunteers, participants with dementia would feel happier and their living skills would not deteriorate as quickly.

To respond to the increased rate of dementia in the Vietnamese community, our staff got in touch with Alzheimer’s Australia for support and training, three PAGs staff being registered for the forthcoming “Train the trainers”. This will equip our staff to respond more effectively to the increasing dementia needs in the Vietnamese Community.

HACC Volunteer Coordination Program

Coordinator: Nam Nguyen

“I am very happy having someone coming to my home every week” or “My family is very grateful to the AVWA for appointing volunteers to visit my demented father at the hospital. Talking with them helps him to calm down because he is placed in a special and separate ward with other mental patients who cannot speak Vietnamese with him…”

Maintaining communication is very important for the elderly. Therefore, over the last year, the Volunteer Coordination program has sent five well trained volunteers to visit the elderly who are frail and live alone in order to help them live happier and healthier at home and in the community. In addition, volunteers can escort the elderly to hospital appointments or local activities or celebrations, depending on the assessment and availability of volunteers at the time. As the Vietnamese community is ageing fast, we need more volunteers.

In May last year, the Carer Support Group officially started with ten participants who were the carers of frail elderly or people with illness. Most of them lived in Brimbank. The purpose of the program is to give carers a safe and supportive environment. At group meetings, carers can share their experiences and relieve their stress with other members in similar situation. The group operates every three weeks for two hours. Useful and/or fun activities include Zumba dancing, Yoga, flower decoration, outings or information sessions.

The program provides sixteen volunteers to assist six PAG groups and the Seniors Group in Richmond. Their work is varied, ranging from administrative/back office tasks to hands-on tasks including cooking Vietnamese meals and assisting in all activities. The volunteers have helped greatly to enhance the quality of life of our clients. To thank them, we invited them to join in the AVWA’s end of year celebration.
Better Links, Better Life for Older Vietnamese Australians

Coordinator: Minh Bui
Team members: Thuc Anh Nguyen, Kim Thien Truong

In September 2013, Australian Vietnamese Women’s Association (AVWA) received funding from the Department of Health and Ageing for the project “Better links, better life for older Vietnamese Australians” (BLBL). AVWA started implementing this project in October 2013. The purpose of this program is to raise awareness of health and aged care services among Vietnamese Victorians by introducing information and services provided in the health and aged care sector and linking the Vietnamese community to service providers such as non-government organisations, city councils, State and Federal departments.

Although the government has been funding a wide range of services to both physically and mentally support Australian citizens in the senior years of their life, however, on account of cultural and linguistic barriers, few Vietnamese elders are aware or make use of the available services. To address this gap in both knowledge and access regarding the aged care services, BLBL ran a number of sessions in suburbs with large number of Vietnamese background residents. These sessions did not only provide information about the services and service providers, they facilitated access to both.

The following real case study illustrated this. In an information session at our AVWA Preston PAG, a BLBL project officer had an opportunity to talk to an elder who said that she had been in Australia for 20 years but had not been able to learn much English. She had felt very isolated as her children and grandchildren were always busy with work and study. A couple of months earlier, she had heard an aged care information session on SBS Radio and wrote down the contact details. Later on, she called AVWA office to ask if there was any PAG service (Planned Activity Group) in her locality. When told that there was a PAG group in Preston, she was elated as she had been wishing for such a service for many years. She expressed appreciation for the BLBL information session on SBS and confided that she had greatly enjoyed joining AVWA Preston PAG where she could socialise, exercise, play games and have a healthy meal. After the BLBL information session at the Preston PAG, she applied for a Home Care Package (HCP). Then, we learnt that four months later, she received approval for the HCP service which lightened the care burden for her children. Not only, did she receive home help but also her carer drove her to medical appointments.

Over the project lifespan, there were many similar stories with happy ending.

In May 2015, towards the end of the BLBL project, we organised an Aged Care Expo at Footscray YMCA Recreation Centre with participation of 15 organizations including aged care service providers and more than 200 Vietnamese residents and their families. This event gave Vietnamese elderly an opportunity to gain a wider knowledge of aged care services for their current and future needs.
Training

Coordinator: Phuong Ngo
Work Placement Coordinator: Minh Bui
Training Administration Officer: Trang Do
Training Development Officer: Giang Tran

Taking a look back at training activities in the last financial year, we are very proud to have provided quality training services to both male and female learners of all ages and from a wide range of backgrounds across Melbourne. Our professional staff consulted all students about their specific needs and abilities to ensure they would choose the right course and career pathway. Not only did we design learning materials to meet our learners’ needs, but also we provided them with cultural and linguistic support as well as work placement. Here is the feedback from one of our many students, Ms. Mukai Kayoko, a Japanese background student of the Diploma of Early Childhood Education and Care:

“I was a bit nervous before I started this course because English is my second language and I had never studied here before. But the trainer and all classmates were warm and friendly: we helped each other and discussed with each other and whenever we were not sure about the meaning of a question, the trainer would carefully explain it to us. I was offered a job at the childcare centre where I did work placement: I reckon that was one of the great experiences of my life.”

Learners enjoyed a warm and friendly learning environment where they were able to learn, have lunch, and chat with their trainers and AVWA staff. They also had opportunities to attend other programs of AVWA such as playgroups or flower arrangement sessions. Students were very happy and greatly appreciated our training services. The completion rate of our courses was about 98% and the employment success rate was 100% in the last financial year.

Low English level of our clients and high competition from private RTOs are challenges we are faced with. We have added English courses to our RTO scope of registration and are applying for government funding this year. We hope to have funding to run FREE English courses early next year to meet our clients’ needs.
The Richmond Tutoring Program (RTP) has been operating for seven years with 4 organisations working in partnership: Australian Vietnamese Women’s Association Inc. (AVWA), Melbourne Girls College (MGC), Yarra City Council and Department of Housing (Richmond office).

Yarra City Council has funded this project in order to promote parental involvement in children's education and also help to guide parents who face linguistic challenges in supporting their children's homework.

The program aims to assist primary school children (Prep to year 6) with their transition to year 7. The MGC provides students to help the children attending the after school RTP program. The program runs every Tuesday afternoon during school term at the Community Hall, 106 Elizabeth Street, Richmond. Educational resources and refreshments are included in this program.

The objectives of RTP program are:

- To provide a safe and enjoyable learning environment where children are supported by tutors to improve their literacy and numeracy skills.
- To build the capacity of parents to support and encourage their children's learning at home.
- To improve the children self-confidence, self-esteem, and social and communication skills.
- To bring together children, families, organisations and schools to benefit the wider Richmond community.

The Benefits of Richmond Tutoring Program

- To increase academic skills and improve students’ attitudes toward school and learning. It helps break down social barriers and facilitate new friendly relationships between students who otherwise may have never conversed before. It also promotes emotional support and positive role modelling.
- For students, one on one instruction specifically tailored to each individual's learning styles and needs. Students can progress at their own pace in a supportive and non-competitive environment while improving their social skills.
- For tutors, they can gain satisfaction, self-esteem and self-confidence, for providing help, increasing their communication skills and sense of connection to the community while obtaining valuable experience.
Parallel Learning is a Vietnamese playgroup delivery model that continues to attract a large number of Vietnamese families in the Western suburbs. We currently have six groups (Collingwood, Richmond, Footscray, Sunshine, Delahey and St Albans). Due to the success of the program we will be looking at expanding our services in the next few months. Our playgroups on average have 15 – 20 families attending each week.

The Parallel Learning philosophy “Play together, Stay together” is embedded in our weekly activities which include organising family outings and excursions embracing two or even three generations to Caribbean Gardens, Gumbuya Park, etc... As a result we are able to see many families develop stronger bonds, improve communication skills and language competency and build relationships with other families. Our program helps families and children stay connected, have a stronger sense of identity and well-being, become involved learners and develop a greater sense of belonging to the playgroup as well as the community.

Parallel Learning programs incorporate lots of fun ways for parents to get involved in their children’s health by weekly preparing a healthy food dish such as chicken vegetable stir fry, a soup, or a fruit platter for lunch. This allows the children and parents to sit down together and enjoy conversation whilst at the same time eating healthy food. The benefits are shown in many parents talking, laughing and enjoying quality time together with their children.

Parallel learning playgroup facilitators develop a close relationship with the families and children in their group and strive to refer them to appropriate services to help with any issues arising ranging from poor vision to anxiety, depression, domestic violence or problem gambling.

Our playgroup facilitators also work with the local communities to provide parents with a range of information to help in the transition of their children to kindergarten, childcare or Primary School through school tours, seminars, information sessions, brochures and links to various parenting websites. Parents have less anxiety and stress, more self-confidence and better parenting skills.

Parallel Learning strongly supports emerging literacy skills in children through active programs such as fortnightly bilingual storytelling in collaboration with Brimbank Library and Maribyrnong Early Years. Our weekly program incorporates lots of singing and nursery rhymes to improve children’s social and oral language skills.

Our playgroup families being mainly from Vietnamese background, we celebrate important traditional festivals such as the Full Moon Festival in September and the Lunar New Year Celebration in February. Parents and children get actively engaged in craft, singing and cooking activities to reflect the cultural traditions and everybody thoroughly enjoys the experience.

Finally, our Parallel learning playgroup success is to a great extent thanks to the dedication of our passionate facilitators who try their best to help make “happy parents, happy children”.

On 7th May 2014, the Yarra Energy Foundation (YEF) in collaboration with the Australian Vietnamese Women’s Association (AVWA) started a program called “Save Energy, Save Money as A Family”. Its aim was to attract and promote choice around the consumption of electricity, including smart meters and flexible pricing.

In an effort to reach the more than 86,000 Vietnamese Victorians, information about the program was relayed through all media including Vietnamese-language newspapers. YEF managed the program while AVWA coordinated the activities including information seminars at Vietnamese group meetings or Vietnamese community events and exhibitions. A number of families agreed to participate in an evaluation of energy saving in their home.

In February 2015, AVWA developed an energy efficiency awareness campaign designed to reach Vietnamese background residents in the City of Maribyrnong. The organisation adopted from the Consumer Utilities Advocacy Centre a number documents that can be summarised and presented in a culturally relevant manner.

Our target group is consumers who buy cheap gas, water, and electrical products and skip maintenance and scheduled services to save money. By showing them ways of saving energy that are easy, either free or affordable with proven records of substantial saving to be gained, the project helped the Vietnamese community improve their awareness and practice of efficient energy use.

In the current climate of rising gas, water and electricity rates, the use of energy-saving devices in the home is becoming very popular and consumers are keen to learn how to properly use them to save money. The message that our project gets across is that it is not merely money that consumers are saving, they are also helping to save our planet.
Illicit Drug and Alcohol Treatment Counselling Project

Coordinator: Tuong Nguyen
Counsellors: Tuong Nguyen, Kim Vu, Tania Huynh

This project - mainly funded by the Commonwealth Department of Health and Ageing under the National Illicit Drug Strategy - provided drug and alcohol information and counselling, consultancy and continuing care for 121 clients including 92 males and 29 females across Melbourne metropolitan regions. The clients were helped to change their views and habit of drug or alcohol use. The project also worked in partnership with Turning Point Drug Alcohol Centre and Women’s Health West to run the Catching Up program which provided information on mental health and drug use through group work and the Vietnamese media network.

The project workers would like to share the story of a female client:

She attended our AOD counselling program following her parole order. In the first meeting, she told of her stressful life due to a troubled family situation and un-stable accommodation after release from prison, in the early 2015. After this first meeting, she accepted to continue AOD counselling sessions at the AVWA as she acknowledged that she needed to change. Although she had earlier tried to follow methadone treatment program for several months and was able to maintain heroin free state during that time in detention, she expressed the wish to try the rehabilitation program at Odyssey House Victoria. The public housing support network was contacted and a support letter was provided and soon after, she was interviewed by a housing support agency and put on their waiting list for affordable renting accommodation. After completing the rehabilitation program, she regained her strength and acquired a positive attitude to change her past drug use behavior.
One evening, at 8 pm, I got a phone call from the mother of K, a Vietnamese prisoner client of mine. I was so happy to hear her voice!

K wanted to apply to the prison authority to call his mother and receive her visits. However, she never answered the phone so her number could not be verified. K provided me with her address so that I could go and see her in person, but warned me that she might not be home. The reason was that too many debt collectors called looking for her son, and hiding was her only way to cope.

Regardless of K's countless brushes with the justice system and his many unsuccessful attempts to fix up his life, his mother was still very supportive of him. She would come and visit him, send him some money, and receive his calls. But if her number could not be verified, it would not be possible for him to call; and if he could not get her correct date of birth to complete his application for her to visit, she would not be allowed to come and see him.

I updated K's mother about her son's current location, told her about the problem of verification of telephone number and correct date of birth, explained to her rights, informed her that she could not be held legally responsible for her son's debts. She was also referred to Victoria Legal Aid to get professional advice on how to deal with this matter. Thanks to this phone conversation, K was able to call her the next day, and got her visit three days later.

Half an hour talk with the Prisoner Support Worker helped this mother to start the process of regaining a normal life. And that is part of what this project offers every week.

The Prisoner Support Program offers hands-on assistance in Vietnamese to prisoners who are serving their sentences. It provides to prisoners and those people significant to them information, general counselling and referrals to relevant services. Without it, the relatives, the indirect “victims of crime”, wherever they might be, either in Melbourne, interstate, Vietnam or USA would be left struggling on their own without able to have news or re-connect with those in prisons. Moreover, every year, the Prisoner Support Worker with the help of members, volunteers and staff of the Australian Vietnamese Women's Association, organises cultural events such as the Full Moon Festival and the Vietnamese New Year in men's and women's prisons with traditional food and music to cheer up the inmates, give them hope and make them feel that they are still part of the community.
Gambling Prevention

Media and Activities Officer: Hoa Phan
Community Education Officer: Huong Ngo
Administrator: Anh Nguyen

In August 2014, the Victorian Responsible Gambling Foundation (VRGF) funded our organisation to run a gambling prevention project called “Don’t Bet Your Life”. The project aims to increase the awareness of the detrimental effects of gambling in the Vietnamese community in Victoria.

AVWA was the only ethnic organization which was funded for both prevention and counseling services. In early October, the project was launched with the attendance of the Minister for Corrections, Edward O’Donohue; Mr. Serge Sardo, CEO of VGRF; Cr Nam Quach, Deputy Mayor of City of Maribyrnong; Cr Loi Truong of the City of Greater Dandenong and other local community leaders. Vietnamese media such as 97.4FM radio, 3ZZZ, SBS radio and representatives of Vietnamese organizations were also invited.

Through media and face to face information sessions, our project team strives to increase the awareness of our community about what responsible gambling means and what the dangers of gambling are, how to recognise early signs of gambling addiction, avoid being hooked to gambling, to become a victim of loan sharks that might lead to illegal activities, etc…

The “Family Health & Well-being” expo organized in May 2015 attracted more than 220 people with 20 organizations participating. Healthy leisure activities were presented as offering better options for individuals and family to keep them occupied and entertained in their spare time rather than gambling with the inherent risk of getting quickly and unexpectedly addicted. Weekend sports, gym membership, singing, ballroom dancing, family outings, flower arrangement, fruit carving, youth camps and other group activities were organized throughout the year not only to improve the physical and mental health of individuals but also to build stronger family bonds and a stronger community.

Furthermore, in conjunction with MonashLinks, we recruited a group of talented people to set up a performance group hoping to increase the awareness of problem gambling through theater performance.
Gambling Counselling

Coordinator: Kim Vu
Counsellors: Kim Vu, Tania Huynh

This Gambling Counselling program is targeted at Vietnamese Victorians with gambling problems - residing in the Western and Northern metropolitan regions, including the Cities of Melbourne and Yarra. Our holistic service provides culturally and linguistically appropriate counselling to Vietnamese problem gamblers who cannot access Gambler’s Help services on account of the cultural and English language barriers.

The highlight of the program in this financial year is the high number of clients, 108 in all including 58 involved in the justice system through Dame Phillis Frost Centre, Community Corrections and Magistrates Courts. The Vietnamese community is greatly affected by problem gambling which has caused lots of harmful effects to individuals’ lives as well as families. Most clients express regret or remorse and have strong motivation to make a change in their life. We have been successful in helping clients in critical situations such as in the case study below:

Ms. N., a 39 yrs-old Vietnamese woman with gambling and related legal issues was referred by a Solicitor at the County Court to our Counselling service.

This woman, a single mother with two children (a 7 yrs-old boy and a 10 yrs-old girl) had been gambling at the Casino for 5 years. She disclosed that she was greatly distressed when her marriage broke up when she was about to give birth to her son. Her husband left her with a new born baby and 3 yrs-old girl. She suffered a broken heart, loneliness and postnatal depression. As she had no relatives in Australia, she turned to her friends asking for help and support. She later got into a new relationship with a man. Unfortunately her new boyfriend was a gambler; he took her to the Casino. She was involved in gambling with his money and became addicted. There were times she won a lot of money. She stated that she felt good in the casino environment and that gambling helped her to get out of loneliness and depression and forget her broken heart. She put her son in child care and her daughter in school then spent the whole day at the casino with her boyfriend. She disclosed that sometimes she was running late to pick up her children. One day, she received an urgent phone call from her boyfriend who was in the casino asking her to come straight away. She took the children with her as it was school holiday. Unfortunately, she left them in the car while she went in to meet the boyfriend. The security man found the children in the open car crying. The police managed to find her and she was charged with committing a crime against her children by neglecting them.

When she joined the gambling counselling program, the counsellor listened to her story, with sensitive and attentive listening. An initial assessment was made; an individual treatment plan was discussed and drawn up with short term and long term goals.

The counsellor provided a report to court presenting her progress in changing her gambling behaviour and taking good care of her children. The client was referred to a professional mental health worker for treatment of depression and a GP for health care. She was also referred to a Vietnamese social worker to help her with a parenting program.

She stated that it was worth attending the gambling counselling program and accessing the support from AVWA other services such as play group for her son. She stated that she was very grateful to the workers of AVWA as she found herself being understood, supported and helped to solve her problems and make a change in her life.

2014-2015 was another successful year for our Media and IT team as we continued to address the needs of AVWA staff, students and clients in an environment of increasing demand and change, especially with the relocation of our AVWA Western Region office to Braybrook in February 2015.

For AVWA Staff, we worked hard to improve reliability, focusing on information security and improving the overall AVWA Information and Technology system. The purpose is not only to support our staff to have adequate and necessary tools in order to carry out their daily duties smoothly, but also to protect the data and assets of the organisation.

For AVWA clients and the general community, we completed and launched a new website in early 2015 that is better, more user-friendly and with faster access. Like every year, we published and distributed 6000 copies of the "Phụ Nữ Việt", annual bilingual magazine, as well as more than 2000 "Bản Tin" newsletters and, of course, the 2013-2014 Annual Report.

Furthermore, throughout the year, the team played an active part in helping to successfully organise AVWA AGM, events, meetings, exhibitions, etc. providing technical support, setting up sound system, designing and producing brochures, flyers, banners, taking photographs, writing articles, etc.

With the high quality articles of Hanh Bui, the new writer who recently joined our team, and the contribution of our 3ZZZ Vietnamese Radio Team now in its 18th year, delivering the information about AVWA’s wide range of quality services to the Vietnamese community is a continuous improvement process implemented in collaboration with the Vietnamese media such as SBS Radio, FM 97.4 Radio, Viet Luan, VietNews, Nhan Quyen, Tivi Tuan San, etc… and last but not least AVWA’s Website.

In the Digital Revolution, new technologies, upgrades and maintenance to enhance IT capabilities are critical for meeting current and future needs of our community services sector. We are looking forward to another interesting and challenging year ahead, and will be working harder to catch up with the growth of modern media and technology.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR’S REPORT
TO THE MEMBERS OF AUSTRALIAN VIETNAMESE WOMEN’S ASSOCIATION INC

We have audited the accompanying financial report, being a special purpose financial report of Australian Vietnamese Women’s Association Inc (the association), which comprises the statement of financial position as at 30 June 2015, the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, notes comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information, and the statement by members of the Committee of Management.

Committee of Management’s Responsibility for the Financial Report
The Committee of Management of the association is responsible for the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view and has determined that the basis of preparation described in Note 1 to the financial report is appropriate to meet the requirements of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012, the Associations Incorporation Reform Act 2012 (Victoria) and the needs of the members. The Committee of Management’s responsibility also includes such internal control as the Committee of Management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of a financial report that gives a true and fair view and is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor’s Responsibility
Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial report based on our audit. We have conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Those standards require that we comply with relevant ethical requirements relating to audit engagements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial report. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Committee of Management’s preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the association’s internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the Committee of Management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Independence
In conducting our audit, we have complied with the independence requirements of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012.

In our opinion the financial report of Australian Vietnamese Women’s Association Inc has been prepared in accordance with Division 60 of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012 and the Associations Incorporation Reform Act 2012 (Victoria), including:

(i) giving a true and fair view of the association’s financial position as at 30 June 2015 and of its performance and cash flows for the year ended on that date; and

(ii) complying with Australian Accounting Standards to the extent described in Note 1, and Division 60 of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Regulation 2013.

Basis of Accounting
Without modifying our opinion, we draw attention to Note 1 to the financial report, which describes the basis of accounting. The financial report has been prepared for the purpose of fulfilling the Committee of Management’s financial reporting responsibilities under the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012 and the Associations Incorporation Reform Act 2012 (Victoria). As a result, the financial report may not be suitable for another purpose.
